Guidance News

Included in the Bartlesville Public Schools guidance curriculum are developmentally appropriate lessons on personal safety to help students learn about strangers and appropriate/inappropriate touches. These lessons are intended to complement and reinforce the instruction students receive from their parents at home. Parents are welcome to preview the curriculum at school and/or attend the lesson with their child's class. These lessons will be presented during classroom guidance in February. If you have further questions, please feel free to contact Rhonda Willcox, Ranch Heights Counselor.
